Vocational Education & Training (VET)

Cardijn College is committed to ensuring that our graduates have a diversity of skills for a dynamic and ever-changing world. We support all of our students to undertake vocational training as part of their learning journey.

Nationally accredited qualifications in Vocational Education and Training (VET) open up a myriad of employment and study opportunities. Students can utilise VET for direct employment pathways or use completed qualifications to gain access to further tertiary studies.

Vocational Education and Training is recognised as a valued component of the South Australian Certificate of Education. The majority of completed Certificate III qualifications, can be counted as university entrance subjects in the calculations of a student's Australian Tertiary Admissions Ranking (ATAR). Increasingly, universities see a diversity of student skills as an advantage to their prospective graduates; with some universities accepting completed VET as a pathway into varying courses.

Qualifications are completed within one year and students train on-site at our campuses and in some cases, at off-site locations.

In addition to qualifications delivered by the College's RTO - MTC Training, Cardijn College also supports students undertaking external vocational training available to secondary school students provided by Registered Training Organisations.

Students in Years 11 and 12 may be eligible for funding through VETRO. Please see details on Page 15 for more information.

Families may have to pay fees and will be required to make their own transport arrangements for these courses if the training is held off-site.

Students wishing to undertake a non ATAR pathway MUST contact the Pathways Hub, as there are limited university courses open to this pathway.

The courses that are available require specific subjects, which vary from course to course. Students MUST have a discussion with the VET Coordinator prior to choosing this pathway.
